

How to use this book:

- You need one person to be the Reader and at least one apprentice.
- The Reader should be whoever is best at doing fun voices.
- The Reader can change the rules and add bonus points to make sure the apprentice is having fun.
- Text in this font is just for the Reader.
- Text in the Adventurer's handwriting should be read aloud.
- The apprentice will use their imagination, dice rolls and their problem solving skills to find a solution for each page.
- This game uses 1 six-sided dice to determine if the apprentice's ideas have worked. Rolling higher numbers is usually better.
- If their idea didn't work, they can think of a different idea and try again.

To begin, roll the dice to decide what 1 item is in the bag. This may change each time you read the book.

- 1 - Can of worms
- 2 - Cuddly toy
- 3 - Large blanket
- 4 - Yummy spices
- 5 - Lucky rabbit's foot
- 6 - Dry chimomilay flower

Good morning apprentice,

Your dragon friend has Dragon Pox. They are covered in spots and are so itchy they might scratch their scales off! Go to the Magical Menagerie and ask the owner what to do.

There is something that might help you inside the bag.

*Be quick,
The Adventurer*

The Magical Menagerie is owned by a grumpy old troll with a rumbling voice.

"You again! What are you looking for today, apprentice?"

Wait for the apprentice to tell the troll the problem.

"Dragon Pox, you say? That's very serious and needs a potion to treat it. Find the right recipe from the drawers. I hope you've been practicing reading runes! Apprentices don't study runes like they used to!"

Roll the dice 2 times and check the result against the table to see what 2 runes the apprentice needs to find on the menagerie drawers.

| 1st Roll | 2nd Roll |
|----------|----------|
| 1- ▲     | 1- ◇     |
| 2- ∴     | 2- S     |
| 3- ○     | 3- ♡     |
| 4- ≡     | 4- ▼     |
| 5- ⊥     | 5- ⬠     |
| 6- ⋈     | 6- ⌘     |

The troll laughs as he reads the recipe over the apprentice's shoulder.

"Ha! That recipe will take you to every part of town finding all those ingredients!

They won't be waiting for you to pick them up. You are going to have to work and use your brains to get them.

What are you waiting for? GO!"
